

Intermedix: A Leading Vendor for Emergency Incident Management Systems

Info-Tech Research Group recently released its first vendor landscape report for the emergency management industry. In the report, Info-Tech identified and recognised Intermedix as an industry champion. Specifically, WebEOC, Intermedix's comprehensive, web-based emergency management solution, was deemed exemplary in all evaluated product categories—the only listed solution to be identified as such.

About Info-Tech

With a paid membership of over 30,000 individuals and entities worldwide, Info-Tech Research Group is the global leader in providing tactical, practical information technology (IT) research and analysis. Info-Tech Research Group has an 18-year history of delivering quality research and is North America's fastest growing full-service IT analysis firm.

Info-Tech's Evaluation of WebEOC

After evaluating WebEOC, Info-Tech offered several conclusions about the robust solution. Their report identified that, since its inception in 1997, WebEOC has emerged as the predominant market solution for emergency preparedness and response. When highlighting WebEOC's strengths, Info-Tech emphasised the solution's configurability, noting that WebEOC is:

- Highly scalable
- Operational in 49 U.S. states
- Deployed in 28 countries worldwide
- Tailorable to the needs of any organisation

“WebEOC offers superior emergency management features in nearly all evaluated features...” – Info-Tech

WebEOC's Competitive Difference

In their analysis, Info-Tech vetted emergency management solutions in tandem, using diagrams and graphics to help readers readily identify the advantages each solution has over its competitors. WebEOC was easily recognised as the superior solution in a side-by-side comparison, containing nearly all evaluated features and offering incomparable flexibility. Earning an exemplary score in the majority of instances, WebEOC duly garnered the Info-Tech designation of industry champion.

For more information on WebEOC, call Critchlow on +64 4 472 8244 or visit www.critchlow.co.nz/solutions/webeoc